Cherokee County General Fund Budgeted Revenues 2007-2008

The county's largest revenue source is derived from ad valorem property taxes. The County's property tax rate will remain the same at $0.52 per $100 of valuation providing $13,507,718 or 40.90% of the total General Fund Budget. The Fiscal Year 2007-2008 budget focuses on limiting the county's burden on property tax dollars. The budgeted revenues reflect increases in user fees, which are set at an appropriate rate to break even in those programs. The three significant fee increases are an increase in the landfill convenience fee from $45 to $75 dollars, an increase in the environmental permitting fee from $300 to $600 dollars, and an increase in building inspections fees that appropriately cover the costs of inspections.

Cherokee County is continuing to aggressively pursue delinquent property tax collections. The property tax collection rate is 96 percent. Cherokee County's goal is to achieve a property tax collection rate of at least 97 percent which exceeds or peer and statewide averages for collections.

Cherokee County
GENERAL FUND
Budgeted Expenditures
2007-2008

The following information details some of the more notable changes/increases presented in the budget for FY 2007-2008:

Personnel –Personnel is the single largest expense category for the county. Fiscal Year 2007-2008 marks the third year of a five year plan to establish a more equitable pay plan which will better enable the County to attract and retain the most qualified employees. The county’s total payroll including salaries and benefits for Fiscal Year 2007-2008 is $13,741,502 with a total increase of $1,390,888.

The Cherokee County pay plan closely mirrors the North Carolina State Personnel Pay Plan. This fiscal year we have budgeted for a 100 percent move to market at 93 percent of the state pay plan, with a minimum 3 percent cost of living increase. This move is the county’s largest budget increase for Fiscal Year 2007-2008.

The cost per employee for health insurance has remained virtually the same for the past four years. The County’s self-insured health insurance plan has proven cost effective but a 10 percent increase equal to $50.67 per employee per month in the employer’s contributions is budgeted for this fiscal year to cover the rising cost. This is the first increase in health insurance costs since the County become self-insured.

The Fiscal Year 2007-2008 budget has created 6 new full-time positions. The positions are a purchasing officer to oversee the procurement and disposition of county property; four new jailers to meet the personnel needs of the detention center currently under construction; an administrative assistant in the Health Department; and an income maintenance case worker in the Department of Social Services.

Capital – Capital expenditures have been significantly limited in the Fiscal Year 2007-2008 budget. The most significant capital expenditures are the purchase of new accounting software for the finance office; three new ambulances to update an aging fleet; and a new garbage truck for the landfill.

Conclusion

In closing, I would like to express my appreciation to the Commissioners and County Staff in preparing the Fiscal Year 2007-2008 budget. This budget reflects a continued focus on providing efficient services to the citizens of Cherokee County by making steps to continually retain and attract a professional workforce, appropriately budgeting for increased operating costs, while funding necessary capital spending.

Respectfully Submitted,

David Badger
Cherokee County Manager
